REMARKS:

25X1X

- Between 2 and 5 p.m. on 3 October and between 1 and 5 p.m. on 5 October, four swept-back jet fighters with a small flag on their noses were observed on the east end of the runway at Neubrandenburg-Trollenhagen airfield. A trailer in which pilots were probably quartered was parked next to the aircraft. Two swept-back jet fighters and a biplane made short local flights during the time of observation on both days. No other activity was observed at the field. A local resident said that little activity was observed at the field during the preceding weeks and that firing at the targets north of Noddemin was allegedly performed between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on 2 October. The resident also said that the occupation was still the same at the field. Three radio trucks were parked on a little hill, about 1,00 meters west of the former smelting-house on the road to Glocksinn. Two of these radio trucks had a rod antenna about 2.5 meters high on their roofs.

25X1A

- There was no flying at the field between 12:30 and 2:30 p.m. on 13 October although the weather was good. The four swept-back jet fighters which were previously observed on the east end of the runway were parked on western end. Next to these planes a trailer was again observed. Three radio trucks were also observed there. *

25X1A * [REDACTED] Comment. It is believed that Neubrandenburg-Trollenhagen airfield is still occupied by a jet fighter regiment although other sources recently observed only a small number MiG-15s whereas 37 aircraft were counted at the field in June 1951. No indications of transfers or outgoing shipments have been observed.
